WPA* reader survey

One purpose of WPA is to discover and address issues of interest to writing program administrators. The people who know the issues are writing program administrators themselves. In many cases WPAs are also the people who can best address the issues informatively and cogently. In some cases we should look beyond our training and immediate experience for expertise which we can adapt to help us do the job better.

The following questions are intended to help WPA readers think through their needs as writing program administrators.

What don't you know about doing your job that you wish you did?

What have you finally learned that you wish you had learned earlier?

What would you like to know more about?

Who do you think could tell you more about it?

What are your major administrative problems right now?

What problems do you see coming over the horizon?

How would you characterize your relationship with your department chair?

Dean? President? Board of trustees? Legislature? Faculty at large?

What do you like best about your present program or the way you run it?

What direction would you like your program to take?

What are the major barriers to developing it in that direction?

I would appreciate hearing your answers to these questions and to any other questions you think should have been on the list. When you write, please also indicate what your rank and status are, e.g., tenured, nontenured, tenure-bearing line, one-year contract, part time, so that we can begin getting a better idea of the positions held by writing program administrators.
