GenAdmin: Theorizing WPA Identities in the 21st Century

Colin Charlton, Jonikka Charlton, Tarez Samra Graban, Kathleen J. Ryan, and Amy Ferdinandt Stolley. October, 2011.

GenAdmin examines identity formation in a generation of rhetoric and composition professionals who have undergone explicit preparation in scholarly dimensions of writing program administration. The authors argue for “GenAdmin” both as an intellectual identity and as a contingent philosophy of writing program work.

Writing Program Administration

Series Editors: Susan H. McLeod and Margot Soven

The Writing Program Administration series provides a venue for scholarly monographs and projects that are research- or theory-based and that provide insights into important issues in the field. We encourage submissions that examine the work of writing program administration, broadly defined (e.g., not just administration of first-year composition programs). For complete submission guidelines, see http://www.parlorpress.com/submissions

Demystifies academic writing

From Inquiry to Academic Writing
A Text and Reader
Second Edition
Stuart Greene, University of Notre Dame
April Lidinsky, Indiana University South Bend
Also available without the reader

Academic writing is a conversation—a collaborative exchange of ideas to pursue new knowledge. From Inquiry to Academic Writing: A Text and Reader demystifies cross curricular thinking and writing by breaking it down into a series of comprehensible habits and skills that students can learn in order to join in. The extensive thematic reader opens up thought-provoking conversations being held throughout the academy and in the culture at large.

Because there is more than one writing process

How to Write Anything
A Guide and Reference with Readings
Second Edition
John J. Ruszkiewicz
University of Texas at Austin
Jay T. Dolmage, University of Waterloo
Also available without the reader

Designed to be clear and simple, the Guide lays out focused advice for writing common academic and real-world genres, while the Reference covers the range of writing skills that students need as they work across genres and disciplines. Genre-based readings are sure to engage students and inspire ideas. The result is everything you need to teach composition in a flexible, highly visual guide, reference, and reader. The new edition gives students more support for academic writing, more help choosing and working with genres, and more emphasis on multimodal composing.
A writer’s handbook—reimagined

Writer’s Help
A Bedford/St. Martin’s Online Handbook
Diana Hacker, Stephen A. Bernhardt, and Nancy Sommers

Writer’s Help lives online because your students do. It responds to searches by students who may—or may not—know standard composition terminology. And students get reliable, class-tested advice from our best-selling Hacker handbooks. Informed by interviews with 1,600 student writers, powered by a search engine that recognizes student language, and based on the content teachers trust, Writer’s Help is a robust new handbook that closes the gap between search and find.
